Information about AIRC Spring Symposium

Tuesday, April 30, 2024

AIRC's 2024 Symposium will explore the best practices in developing, managing, assessing, and sustaining agency and other third partnerships that are foundational to international enrollment success. Symposium participants will explore broad strategies, detailed workings, and case studies to help achieve recruitment goals. Given the critical importance of these partnerships, this is a must-attend event for those in the International Enrollment Management field.
